

HAPPY EMPLOYEES DON'T SUE

How Employee Engagement and Sound Legal Advice Can Keep Everyone Smiling

Happy Employees Don't Sue is a half-day conference that is framed around the concept that cheerful employees are less likely to bring litigation against a current or former employer because they feel valued and part of a team. Tom will share the employee engagement strategies that are proven to keep employees in good spirits and result in increased productivity, profitability, retention, and innovation. Amanda will demonstrate why disgruntled employees are more likely to litigate and identify what went wrong. She will explore mistakes commonly made that can lead to expensive litigation and provide a legal update that you won't want to miss!
